

The North Hill Story

EXMOOR

NATIONAL PARK

North Hill is an outdoor area with heathland and woods

This means it is a place where I can spend time in the countryside

When I arrive to visit North Hill

I might see:

The car park

A cattle grid

Heather, gorse and the
Bristol
Channel
beyond

Signs

When I visit North Hill

I might see:

A wooden signpost

A bench where I can sit and look at the sea

A wooden gate

A concrete ramp which army tanks used to use a long time ago

When I visit North Hill

I might see:

Heather

Ponies. They are special ponies called Exmoor Ponies

Bracken, which have lots of pointed leaves

Trees of different shapes and sizes

When I visit North Hill

I might hear:

The peep of a nearby steam train

Birds like cuckoo and chiff chaff

The wind blowing

Waves crashing

When I visit North Hill

I might touch or feel:

Rough bark on trees or logs

The bump of the car going over the cattle grid

The wind blowing through my hair

A stony path under my feet

When I visit North Hill

I might taste:

Food

When I visit North Hill

I might smell:

Pine trees

Pony poo

Gorse flowers

Grass

Most of all North Hill is a place where I can enjoy time outdoors

Some additional information for my visit

- This Sensory Story starts from Exmoor National Park free car park at North Hill tank grounds TA24 5LB
- There are no toilets available but public toilets can be found at Quay West
- There are refreshment stops in nearby Minehead and a seasonal food truck at North Hill

The North Hill Story

EXMOOR
NATIONAL PARK

Produced For Exmoor National Park by Access & Inclusion UK 2023
www.accessandinclusion.com